Old Vesuvius is spouting again. Probably trying to qualify for the Florida primary in 1910.

Tallahassee's latest sensation is a two-headed calf. Two faced animals create no comment at the State capital.

What has become of the appeal to the Railroad Commission to give DeLand connection with night trains on the main line?

Jet is the fashionable color for hair ornaments this fall. Jet has been the favorite color for eyes "the morning after" a long long time.

The price of cotton is causing the manufacturers much worry. It looks as if editors might have to go without shirts next year.

A Washington City man shot his wife and then committed suicide. It would have been more polite, this time, to have helped himself first.

The Rev. Len Broughton may resign his pastorate in Atlanta and go to New York to preach. And then New York will go "dry." This is not a pun on Elder Broughton's preaching.

A Spokane man has invented an inside joint for use on locomotive boiler joints that, it is said, will save the railroads between fifty and sixty million (dollars, not joints) a year. Then we can all ride at half price.

Buffalo Bill and the Barnum and Bailey circus have been working the State papers for free advertising—and the chumps who run these papers, with hearts ten times as big as their pocketbooks, fell right into the snare.

New York City will elect a mayor on Tuesday next. The world (little w) will continue to wag along about as usual whether the new mayor is called Gaynor, or Hearst, or just plain Dennis. All except the American, which will wag a little more, no matter who is elected.

A few years ago, when a man took sick the barber was called in and a few pounds of precious life-giving blood were extracted. As time progressed, however, human life became cheaper, the barbers were relegated and X. Y. Z., P. D. Q.s took their place. Today when a man takes sick they cut him open and take out some of his insides. Wonder what they will be doing in 2009?

A Kentucky man who killed a rival 22 years ago, and then escaped from the State, has just been located and captured in West Virginia. How do you suppose that man enjoyed his 22 years of freedom, with a reward of $500 hanging over his head; with the possibility of a detective lurking around every corner, behind every tree, or hidden in every bush, with guilt on his conscience, and the throes of death of his victim vivid in every sleepless hour? What a life he must have led!

The Ocala Banner states that "it has a letter in its possession from Mr. M. E. Gillette, manager of the Florida Fruit Exchange, in which he says that the newspapers of Florida (no exceptions made) have been purchased by the commission men to such an extent that it is impossible for the fruit growers to get a word in their behalf in edgewise. What do the newspapers of the State think of that?"

The above would be real funny if it were not for the thousands of growers who will be injured by such statements from the head of their organization. The managers of the exchange should call a meeting, make a thorough investigation, and if they find this statement correct (as we haven't the slightest doubt they will) they should gill it at once.

If the fishing industry of Volusia is threatened, and is being ruined by unwise laws, as at present claimed, the hundreds of citizens interested should meet next year and decide on the legislation necessary for the best interests of the industry. The average man sent to Tallahassee knows about as much about fishing as about the New Testament, and is not qualified to make laws for the regulation of the industry. Only citizens should attend the meeting and the remedial legislation should be wisely considered and drawn with the idea of protecting the industry for years to come. Then men who may be relied on to enact such legislation should be sent to Tallahassee.

The continued dry weather is ruining the strawberry crop in South Florida. Dry weather has not hurt the Jacksonville crop of booze, not materially, so far—but there's no telling what it will do next year.

The Jacksonville Times-Union is making a noteworthy effort to secure circulation—the biggest effort ever made in Florida. And the subs are rolling in. What's the matter with the two excellent Tampa dailies, that they are allowing their Jacksonville contemporary to gather in all these loose plunkets?

The Tampa auto race will be run via the West Coast to Jacksonville and back via the East Coast, which was, of course, the route intended all the time. Tampa is too wise to cut out either the West Coast or the East Coast. The race will be the topic of interest next week, and the towns along the route will vie with each other in showering courtesies to the participants.

ODD FELLOWS RAISE BARRIER

Will Deny Admission To Dealers in "Near Beer" and "Soft Drinks."

Knoxville, Tenn., Oct. 22.—The Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows this morning passed a resolution denying admission into the order to dealers in near beer and also to men who conduct so-called "soft drink" stands. Since the exclusion of the liquor traffic from the State last July, the sale of near beer in soft drink stands has become general in cities and towns. The Odd Fellows had previously barred saloon keepers from membership.

Is Taliaferro a Candidate?

Senator Taliaferro has made no announcement of his purpose to seek reelection to the office of United States Senator, and the chances are that after he has made a careful review of the situation he will decide that the expiration of his present term will furnish a most opportune time for his graceful retirement from public life. The senator has always been accounted a man of keen foresight.—Palatka News.

Mrs. Thompson Injured.

While driving with her husband, near the home of his parents at Kissimmee, the first of the week, Mrs. Emily May Thompson was severely tho not seriously injured. The horse was hurt, or frightened, and kicked the vehicle to pieces. Mr. Thompson escaped injury. Mrs. Thompson suffered a sprained ankle and was badly bruised.

A Delightful Reception.

A most pleasant reception was tendered Rev. and Mrs. Ferran, of the Presbyterian church, by the members of the congregation, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cary D. Landis on West New York avenue Friday evening.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Landis, Mrs. Prevatt, Mr. and Mrs. Ferran, and Mr. Landis.

The beautiful residence, with its ample grounds, and commodious verandahs, were brilliantly lighted, and the scene was a most witching one.

Refreshments were served and the evening most pleasantly spent.

Sylvan McElroy Married.

Dr. Sylvan McElroy, of Orlando, and Miss Edna Dozier, of Ocala, were married on last Wednesday at high noon, at Grace Episcopal church in Ocala. Mr. McElroy, who attended Stetson University several years ago, has many friends in DeLand.

Pensacola is now trying to experiment with a heavier oil for the streets than has previously been used, and the result so far is said to be satisfactory.

Sanford expects to have a splendid display of fruits and vegetables at the National Horticultural Congress which takes place in Council Bluffs, Iowa, in November.

Orlando women have organized to prohibit the tacking up or posting of unsightly signs or handbills about Lake Lucerne in that city.

Addresses in Volusia Next Week.

Next week is the time set for the educational rallies in Volusia county. The speakers will be in New Smyrna Monday morning; Daytona, Monday afternoon; DeLeon Springs, Friday. At the meeting in Daytona, the cornerstone of the new public school building is to be laid, and probably very interesting exercises will take place.

Criminal Court Appreciated.

The W. C. T. U.'s with all their friends are deeply appreciating the measures taken by our County Criminal Court. Judge James W. Perkins, for the ridding of the county of "blind tigers."

With the co-operation of our sheriff, and Solicitor, Hon. Bert Fish, the mothers are hoping for great and good results.

Miss Watts Entertains.

On Saturday Miss Ethel Watts entertained at a dinner party. Covers were set for eight. Those present were Misses Marion and Bessie Coulter, Marion and Olive Gardner, Nellie Walters, Lucile Harrison, Nep. Powell, Miss Rowe, Ethel and Margaret Watts.

In Selecting a Sales Agency to market your crop, a grower's natural desire is to select an organization whose interests are in Florida and which is therefore working for the welfare of the State and the improvement of the industry;

An organization which has the best facilities at this end; Which has the longest and most successful experience in marketing Florida products;

Which has a reputation not only in Florida, but all over the country, for fair and square dealing;

Whose business is an established and successful one;

Whose brands and pack are known in all markets and popular among the jobbers;

Which has an established trade in every carlot market in the United States and Canada, thus insuring it in most cases first chance at the business of the best houses;—which means distribution and top prices;

Which has a well organized and competent sales force with bonded sales agents in practically every carlot market in the United States and Canada.

Whose agents are selected for their ability, honesty and experience in Florida products;

Whose officers have the ability and experience in Florida necessary to enable them to properly distribute its shipments and secure top market prices;

Which has in the past been able to return to the growers the highest percentages;

Which does not ask you to pin your faith solely on promises of what it will be able to do for you in the future, without being able to show a past record which will of itself justify you in selecting it as your sales agency;

Which does not ask you to tie up your fruit for a term of years, but which will handle your fruit for the one season knowing that it can show you results which will cause you of your own free will to continue your arrangements with it during future seasons;

Which does not ask you to tie up your crop without knowing what its charges will be, but which will agree to market your crop at a definite price per box which is just as low as the service rendered will permit.

The organization which can answer these requirements is,
